

AFTER MATT TERNYIK, 5, son of the Wilbur Ternyiks was injured when struck by a car on Rhododendron Drive, behind him in the photo, he drew the poster above to show to his dad. He says the car is about to hit him, but he wishes it would stop, like the sign says. If it doesn't, the "v" on the sign is for "peace," Matt says. He doesn't want a mad driver hitting him again. Residents of the neighborhood, angered over speeding traffic, have demanded the city do something to slow down the steady stream of cars and trucks.